ALEX GRANT

email@example.com • (123) 456-7890 • Denver, CO 80202 • LinkedIn • Portfolio

A data warehouse manager with seven years of experience managing data storage, Extract, Transform, Load (ETL) processes, and analytics. A proven track record of leading complex technical projects to enhance data analytic capabilities and improve reporting for multi-million-dollar production sites.

Professional Experience

Data Warehouse Manager, DataCorp Solutions, Denver, CO
May 2021 – present

- Lead a team of 14 data analysts and engineers, overseeing data integration, ETL processes, and data storage architecture for seven warehouse facilities and production sites valued at up to $20 million
- Increase data retrieval speed by 38% by optimizing database indexing and query handling across data warehouses
- Collaborate with business intelligence teams to perform advanced data modeling and facilitate real-time reporting, contributing to an 18% reduction in overhead costs

Senior Data Engineer, TechDynamics, Denver, CO
March 2017 – June 2018

- Developed and managed ETL pipelines for a data warehouse support three major production facilities, which improved data quality and reduced processing time by 32%
- Conducted performance tuning for SQL queries, reducing query time by 20% and enhancing user access to critical data insights
- Coordinated with cross-functional teams to integrate business applications with the data warehouse, enabling real-time data tracking across eight departments

Key Skills

- Data architecture
- ETL processes
- Project management

- SQL, Python
- Team leadership
- Warehouse management systems (WMS)

Education

University of Colorado, Boulder, CO
Bachelor of Science (B.S.) in Computer Science
2017

Certifications

Certified Data Management Professional (CDMP) | DAMA International