

ALIYA JACKSON

Machine operator skilled in machine setup, quality control, and maintenance. Committed to increasing production efficiency and reducing product defects. Certified in production technology, metalworking, and occupational safety and health administration.

CONTACT

 (123) 456-7890

 email@example.com

 LinkedIn

 Boston, MA 12345

KEY SKILLS

- Efficiency improvement
- Machine setup
- Maintenance and repair
- Quality control
- Workplace safety

EDUCATION

- Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering
University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI
- Associate of Applied Science in Machine Tool Technology
Milwaukee Area Technical College, Milwaukee, WI
- Associate of Applied Science in Precision Machining Technology
Ivy Tech Community College, Indianapolis, IN

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Senior Machine Operator | June 2018 to present
Bechtel Group Inc. | Boston, MA

- Set up and operated various machines, increasing production efficiency by 15%
- Established new quality control procedure that reduced product defects by 20%
- Conducted regular machine maintenance, reducing downtime by 30%

Machine Operator | January 2018 to May 2018
Fluor Corp. | Irving, TX

- Operated and maintained various machines, helping increase overall productivity by 10%
- Co-developed a new machine setup procedure that reduced setup time by 25%
- Collaborated with maintenance team on major machine repairs, reducing repair time by 15%

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

- Certified Production Technician, Manufacturing Skill Standards Council
- National Institute for Metalworking Skills Certification
- Occupational Safety and Health Administration Certification