

Daniel Wright

Military ER Nurse

Highly skilled military ER nurse with 10 years of experience providing emergency care in combat zones and military medical facilities. Adept at trauma stabilization, mass casualty response, and battlefield medicine under high-stress conditions.

CONTACT

(234) 567-8901

danielwright@example.com

LinkedIn | Profile

Norfolk, VA 23510

EDUCATION

April 2017 | Master of Science in Nursing (MSN)

Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences

October 2015 | Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN)

University of Virginia

KEY SKILLS

- Battlefield trauma care
- Mass casualty response
- Military triage and stabilization
- Emergency evacuation procedures
- Psychological first aid

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Military ER Nurse | Naval Medical Center Portsmouth | Norfolk, VA
June 2020 – Present

- Provide emergency medical care to active-duty personnel, veterans, and their families in a high-volume military hospital.
- Assist in mass casualty drills, improving medical response efficiency by 25%.
- Train junior medical personnel on battlefield trauma care, enhancing unit readiness.

ER Nurse | U.S. Army Medical Corps | Afghanistan
January 2014 – December 2020

- Delivered trauma care in combat zones, stabilizing critically injured soldiers before evacuation.
- Implemented a rapid-response system for battlefield injuries, reducing mortality rates by 18%.
- Provided psychological first aid to soldiers experiencing combat stress and PTSD symptoms.

CERTIFICATIONS

- Combat Medical Advanced Skills Training (CMAST), U.S. Department of Defense, November 2024
- Advanced Trauma Life Support (ATLS), American College of Surgeons, December 2014
- Registered Nurse (RN), Virginia, November 2014